

Gabriel

He saw the Abbot walking up and down.

Dreaming of all the beautiful things he meant to paint.

Taking down the book . . . he unwrapped and unclasped it

Began slowly to turn over the pages.

He passed a little peasant boy.